Description

A lecture was held in Malta on 14-16 Feb. by Marco Palma of Università Politecnica delle Marche. The lecture was part of a professional course on research diving, in collaboration with other projects, i.e. PADI, Project Aware, DAN Europe, Reef Check Italia. The topics regarded underwater photogrammetry and surveys. The 4-Dive Web site built up a public interface for the students to upload data on the Workspace, and during the nights the teacher run 3D reconstructions of the photos collected during the day. The participants were 8 students among biologists and divers. The ScalableDataMining VRE was used.
